

BEND IN THE ROAD

© Belinda McArdle 2009

We will be at that bend in the road
With an open door, a smile and a haven safe and warm
Oh we will be at that bend in the road

We will try to help you carry your load
With an open ear and heart and a haven safe and warm
Oh we will try to help you carry your load

We know that your story is not our own
You have space and freedom in this haven safe and warm
Oh we know that your story is not our own

May we all reap what we sow
And may we bless each share in this haven safe and warm
Oh may we all reap what we sow

We will be at that bend in the road
With an open door, a smile
With an open ear and heart
With freedom and with blessings in this haven safe and warm
Oh we will be at that bend in the road